EMAIL NOTIFICATION OF NEW VOICE MESSAGES

If you have selected this document, you are considering upgrading your basic voice mail service to include email notification of new messages. This is an exciting new feature which can tell you at your workstation when new messages arrive, or be used in conjunction with text messaging on some PCS mobile telephones. We can notify up to 3 email addresses from each mailbox.

STANDARD EMAIL

“Normal” email requires no special setup. You just need to give us the email account that you want notified when a message arrives and we’ll send you the notification. We can send it anywhere you can receive it!!

PCS WIRELESS PHONES

It’s obviously very useful to be able to get an email on your wireless phone to tell you that new messages are waiting in your Multi-Link mailbox. If you are already receiving emails to your PCS phone - all you need to do is tell us the correct email address to send the email to – simple.

The availability of email notification from your mobile phone providers changes almost daily, as does the price of it. With many carriers incoming emails are free. With some, it’s part of text messaging, with others it’s not available at all. In the table below we have done our best to gather the information about the most common mobile phone providers together with the telephone number you should call to set up their text messaging or email service. We would do it for you, but in most cases they need the order directly from you, their subscriber.

PCS phones must have Digital Text Messaging enabled for email notification. If it isn’t enabled, call your wireless provider.
